"I own a summer sales company based in Raleigh North Carolina, selling pest control door to door. Each year around the beginning of July we have a big motivational meeting to give our sales reps that extra push to finish their summer strong. I have known Ty Bennett for many years and this year decided to have him come and do his 'Goals' workshop for my salesmen. It turned out to be just what they needed. They made vision boards and hung them in their rooms and set specific goals. Two weeks after Ty left, we had our best sales week of the entire summer and continue to sell better each week. Thanks Ty."
