To Whom It May Concern:

We had the great experience of having Ty Bennett as the key note speaker for our 2013 Utah Family, Career, and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA) State Conference. Ty led the group of 1,100 advisers and junior high and high school students in a motivational speech that was enjoyed by all ages. The crowd was enthusiastic and paid attention to every word that he said. His message was filled with useful knowledge that students could use in real life situations. His concern and enthusiasm for today's society set the tone for a positive, encouraging conference.

After his presentation I had many positive comments from advisers and students. They enjoyed his encouraging words and engaging activities. They felt that Ty helped them see their potential as leaders. They left the conference feeling motivated to be a better person and contribute to society in a positive manner.

Not only was Ty an excellent speaker, but he was also a joy to work with. He made sure he was aware of the details of our program and stayed within the time frame we allotted him. He went above and beyond what was asked of him by arriving early and staying late to interact with students and teachers.

Ty and his team were great to work with which made arrangements for his presentation easy. They were friendly and eager to make our conference a success. I would definitely use Ty again as a keynote speaker or workshop presenter in the future.

Sincerely,

Nikki Sue Larkin
